

April Animal Wisdom & Oracle Guidance Reading

Happy Spring Friends,

For this month's theme I pulled a card from The Heart Path Oracle Cards by Nadine Gordon-Taylor & Animal Reflections Healing Oracle by me

Theme: Revelation – Sing Your Song

Right away I thought back to the reading for March. The theme was about unconditional love of self. Along with Giraffe inviting us to see the big picture and Dove who had the message of Be Peace.

As I looked at this card my first instinct was that I saw the birds inside the circles on either side of the eye as robins – very fitting in connection with spring!

From our long winters nap and time of hibernation and marinating in the continuing unfolding of our personal evolution, we are feeling a new bounce in our step.

The eye on the card I see as reflective of connecting with our third eye – the energy center of our intuition. What we pondered during the still months of winter, we now carry forward into spring, trusting our intuition, and that we will continue to be guided in living life on our terms and what matters most to our hearts.

We are wiser for our time in stillness during the cold months and our reward is feeling lighter for it along with new revelations we'd not seen before, but now add to our layer of wisdom as a collective and individually.

Reading the guidebook for this card it says that the birds in the circle are actually buntings – "they speak of intelligence and knowledge and represent an awakening of higher truths – and that their singing symbolizes awareness of the vibrations that emanate from your voice and the power it has to affect your reality.”

Spring brings with it a letting go of what was and stepping more fully into what is here now along with the mystery of the unknown and what the remainder of the year holds for us.

And this card, our theme for the month, asks that we ready ourselves from all the wisdom we've gained to this point, to what we will learn as we move forward – and how this will strengthen our voice to continue to sing our own songs!

And now the animal guide to go with the theme for this month:

Pelican – Expansion

I've worked with oracle cards for many years now and it can still sometimes amaze me how the cards provide such magical synchronistic moments!

And this is how I felt pulling from my deck Animal Reflections Healing Oracle and getting Pelican with the message of expansion.

I see this as very fitting because this is what the season of spring is all about and that we are expanding outwardly now after being cocooned during the winter months. But also within ourselves as we pondered new possibilities for the year ahead.

Whenever I see a pelican – and I'm actually recording this in February – before I head to FL where I'm hoping to see some pelicans – I find myself transfixed by the fact that they have been on this planet for over 36 million years!

Whenever I've had the opportunity to see pelicans lined up along the piers near the water, they always remind me of wise old men gathered together as they reflect on the world that was and the world that is and will be.

Our planet, and each of us individually, is continuing to evolve and expand – and it will be this way long after we leave.

I'm always in awe that the pelican is so large in stature but how they fly so gracefully through the sky despite their size. And this reminds me that we too can be graceful in our expansion, despite the bumps we encounter along the way. But that is the beauty of our continuing to evolve into our true selves.

Lastly, I share in part, this from my guidebook and message from Pelican:

You trust when you dive under the surface you will come back up with a renewed sense of who you truly are and ready to give from your authentic essence. You understand this because you are feeling lighter in spirit, have welcomed in a deeper expansion of love, and this in turn has had you encountering more moments of serendipity.

These gifts of insight you have accessed through listening to your needs, and you are then able to pass on to others by example. When you show kindness and love to yourself you are not only better able to understand others from a fresh and compassionate perspective, but your empathy for them deepens, too.

This is what enables you to gracefully fly through life in a more serene way. It also opens new portals for you as you continue to hone your methods of self-care. As you do, the more the world expands around you with opportunities unexpected and anew.

So continue to Sing Your Song! The world needs your song!

Now it's your turn: pull a card from your favorite oracle deck and see how it fits with this month's theme, along with how it fits in your life right now.

I'd love to hear your insights so feel free to leave a comment!

Thank you so much for joining me today. Take good care.
